

Syncrude Canada Ltd.'s Health, Safety & Environment (HSE) Department is seeking an experienced Industrial Hygienist to join our team.

The Industrial Hygienist works under the general direction of the Team Leader - Industrial Hygiene. As part of the Industrial Hygiene Team, the incumbent provides professional industrial hygiene services, and consultation to Syncrude management, leaders including Safety, Health and Environment staff as well as employees, at all Syncrude Locations.

Key Accountabilities:

- Plan and conduct workplace exposure assessments to anticipate, identify, evaluate, document and mitigate workplace chemical, physical, biological and ergonomic health hazards.
- Report preparation and communication of workplace exposure assessment findings.
- Provide day-to-day technical expertise and guidance to the organization to ensure compliance with regulatory requirements as well as industry and company standards and/or best practices.
- Use Industrial Hygiene database for recordkeeping and analysis.
- Participate in chemical review process and provide guidance for the safe use of chemicals.
- Execute annual work plan.
- Maintain and calibrate IH monitoring equipment.
- Support emergency response activities as required.

Qualifications

Experience and Education

- Bachelor's degree in a science discipline
- 2-5 years relevant Industrial Hygiene or related work experience
- Master's degree in Occupational Health/Industrial Hygiene considered an asset
- Must be willing to pursue future professional designation as a Certified Industrial Hygienist/Registered Occupational Hygienist

Skills, Knowledge and Abilities

- Excellent verbal and written communications skills.
- Excellent interpersonal skills

Requirements:

- Valid class 5 driver's license
- Must be eligible to work permanently in Canada

Work Location

This is a Fort McMurray based position. This is NOT a Fly In Fly Out position.

What We Offer

- Highly competitive base salaries
- Flexible benefit plan options
- Company matched saving program
- Defined benefit & company matched defined contribution pension plans
- Employee development
- Generous paid time off
- Relocation Assistance

Who We Are

There's a certain something about the Syncrude culture that sets us apart. It's an energy and collective spirit, a commitment to do better and having the heart to be industry leaders and leaders in our communities. We call it our Syncrude Side. Join us, and we'll help you discover yours.

Syncrude is situated in the heart of the Boreal Forest, and is proud to call Fort McMurray home. Our community offers the amenities of city living along with world class recreational amenities and outdoor pursuits. Pursue your goals by exploring the many exciting career opportunities with Syncrude.

This posting will remain open until a suitable candidate has been found.